

A QUICK GUIDE FOR PASSAGE ANALYSIS IN A.P. ENGLISH LANGUAGE AND LITERATURE

Passage analysis questions on the A.P. exam often suggest which stylistic terms the writer should address. Even when the questions mention no stylistic terms, it is wise to include references to diction, syntax, figures of speech and tone. Students should pay particular attention to the main verbs in the question: Verbs like “characterize” and “analyze” call for the writer to emphasize style with appropriate terms; verbs like “evaluate” or “defend, challenge or qualify” call upon the writer to consider broader issues of argument and logic. (“Qualify” means to identify and defend which aspects of the passage are valid and which are not.) Even in these broader discussions students are advised to use appropriate stylistic terms when possible.

When analyzing diction, consider such questions as:

- Is the language concrete or abstract?
- Are the words monosyllabic or polysyllables?
- Do the words have interesting connotations?
- Is the diction formal or colloquial?
- Is there any change in the level of diction in the passage?
- What can the reader infer about the speaker or the speaker’s attitude from the word choice? (see tone below)

When analyzing syntax, consider such questions as:

- Are the sentences simple and direct, or complex and convoluted?
- Does the author use repetition or parallel structure for emphasis?
- Does the author write periodic or cumulative sentences?
- Are there instances of balanced sentences or antithesis?
- Are there rhetorical questions in the passage?

When discussing figures of speech, consider such questions as:

- Are there interesting images or patterns of imagery in the passage?
- Does the author create analogies, like similes and metaphors or broader descriptive comparisons?
- Does the author make use of personification or apostrophe?
- Is there deliberate hyperbole or understatement in the passage?
- Does the author employ paradox or oxymoron to add complexity?
- What part do rhythm and sound devices like assonance, consonance or onomatopoeia play in the passage?

When discussing tone, consider such questions as:

- What seems to be the speaker’s attitude in the passage?
- Is more than one attitude or point of view expressed?
- Does the passage have a noticeable emotional mood or atmosphere?
- Can anything in the passage be described as irony?

NEVER substitute terminology for analysis. ALWAYS connect the literary term (and example) directly to the effect it creates in the passage.
